

WEEKLY LABOR CIRCLES

Matters of Interest to Organized Workingmen of the District.

MEETINGS FOR THIS WEEK.

SUNDAY, JULY 26.
Executive Committee, District Assembly, No. 49, K. of L., Labor Bureau, 314 Eighth street.

MONDAY, JULY 27.
L. A. 4308, K. of L., Mechanics-Welch's Hall, Eighth and 13th streets southeast.
L. A. 1303, K. of L., Ironworkers' Association, 13th and 14th streets southeast.
L. A. 1748, K. of L., Carpenters and Joiners-Society Temple, Fifth and G streets.

TUESDAY, JULY 28.
Federation of Labor-Plasterers' Hall, Fourth and a-half street and Pennsylvania avenue.
Building Trades Council-Electrical Workers' Hall, 508 Eleventh street.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29.
L. U. No. 1, Carpenters, Joiners and Stair Builders-Labor Bureau, 314 Eighth street.
L. A. 1342, K. of L., Sheet Clerks-Bueno Vista Club Rooms, Sixth street, between G and H.

THURSDAY, JULY 30.
L. U. No. 190, Brotherhood of Carpenters-Hall 627 Massachusetts avenue.
District Assembly, No. 66, K. of L., Plasterers' Hall, Fourth and a-half street and Pennsylvania avenue.
L. A. No. 10, Steam and Hot Water Fitters-K. of L., 425 Twelfth street.

FRIDAY, JULY 31.
L. A. 1798, K. of L., Journeymen House Painters-Labor Bureau, 314 Eighth street.
L. A. 4896, K. of L., Electrician Association of Engineers-Bunch's Hall, 314 Eighth street.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 1.
Cigar Makers' Union, No. 110-737 Seventh street northwest.
L. A. 2389, K. of L., Journeymen Bakers-Plasterers' Hall, Fourth and a-half street and Pennsylvania avenue.

SUNDAY, JULY 26.
Paperhangers' Protective Association-Labor Bureau, 314 Eighth street.

FEDERATION OF LABOR.
Considerable business was transacted at the meeting of the Federation of Labor held last Tuesday night. In addition to the regular routine business, the semi-annual election of officers was held. President McHugh called the meeting to order promptly at 8 o'clock, with Delegate C. A. Maloney as secretary.

After the roll call and reading of minutes of the last meeting, credentials of delegates for the ensuing term, which had not already been acted upon, were taken up, which resulted in the adoption of a favorable report admitting delegates from the Paperhangers, House Painters, Plasterers, Bakers, Musicians, Carriage Makers, also from the Ironworkers' Association, and hearing the reports of the standing and special committees, the nomination and election of officers was declared in order.

The nomination for president brought forth the following: First vice president, E. M. Blake, of Excelsior Assembly; second vice president, James Traubner, of the Street Car Drivers' Association; recording secretary, Charles A. Maloney, of the Protective Paper Hangers' Union; financial secretary, Stephen A. Clements, of the Plasterers' Association; and general secretary, George W. Glasgow, of the Painters' Association.

The secretary-treasurer presented his semi-annual report, which showed a very gratifying increase in the condition of the treasury. The report was referred to the auditing committee.

The different reports relating to the Metropolitan Street Railway Company were then debated at length, the reports from all of the organizations being to the effect that the action of the company in refusing to place the car on the street had been indorsed. The delegates were advised to use every honorable effort in pushing the fight for recognition of organized labor to success.

The House Painters' delegates stated that they had not only indorsed the action of the Federation of Labor, but had also placed a penalty on any member who patronized the Metropolitan road while the present difficulty was pending.

Attention was called to unauthorized and erroneous proceedings of the Federation that are being published, and the secretary directed to request the publishers of the newspapers in question not to publish any reports, except those given out by the press committee to accredited reporters.

President McHugh of the Workingmen's Library Association then addressed the meeting on behalf of that institution. He called attention to the good that had been accomplished through the efforts of the association, and especially solicited the moral and financial aid of all the organizations for its future welfare.

The report of the committee shows that the number of organizations composing the Federation at the present time is forty-six, namely: Union No. 1, Carpenters, Joiners and Stairbuilders; Journeymen Plasterers' Association; Painters' Association; Columbia Lodge of Mechanics; Tin and Sheet Iron Workers; Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers; Journeymen Bakers' Association; Carriers' Association; Monte and Eccentric; The Lovers; Plasterers and Gas Fitters' Association; Ladies' Progressive Association; Barbers' Association; Marine Association of Steam Engineers; Carpenters and Joiners' Association; General Workers' Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; Paper Hangers' Protective Association; Washington Times Assembly; Stonecutters' Union; Protective Street Railway Assembly; Lathers' Protective Union; Clerks' Association.

Several delegates to their feet, who in turn indorsed the present incumbent for his firm and impartial method in conducting the affairs of the Federation. President James F. McHugh was then placed in nomination and amid much enthusiasm declared elected by acclamation.

The remainder of the officers were filled as follows: First vice president, E. M. Blake, of Excelsior Assembly; second vice president, James Traubner, of the Street Car Drivers' Association; recording secretary, Charles A. Maloney, of the Protective Paper Hangers' Union; financial secretary, Stephen A. Clements, of the Plasterers' Association; and general secretary, George W. Glasgow, of the Painters' Association.

The secretary-treasurer presented his semi-annual report, which showed a very gratifying increase in the condition of the treasury. The report was referred to the auditing committee.

The different reports relating to the Metropolitan Street Railway Company were then debated at length, the reports from all of the organizations being to the effect that the action of the company in refusing to place the car on the street had been indorsed. The delegates were advised to use every honorable effort in pushing the fight for recognition of organized labor to success.

The House Painters' delegates stated that they had not only indorsed the action of the Federation of Labor, but had also placed a penalty on any member who patronized the Metropolitan road while the present difficulty was pending.

Attention was called to unauthorized and erroneous proceedings of the Federation that are being published, and the secretary directed to request the publishers of the newspapers in question not to publish any reports, except those given out by the press committee to accredited reporters.

President McHugh of the Workingmen's Library Association then addressed the meeting on behalf of that institution. He called attention to the good that had been accomplished through the efforts of the association, and especially solicited the moral and financial aid of all the organizations for its future welfare.

The report of the committee shows that the number of organizations composing the Federation at the present time is forty-six, namely: Union No. 1, Carpenters, Joiners and Stairbuilders; Journeymen Plasterers' Association; Painters' Association; Columbia Lodge of Mechanics; Tin and Sheet Iron Workers; Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers; Journeymen Bakers' Association; Carriers' Association; Monte and Eccentric; The Lovers; Plasterers and Gas Fitters' Association; Ladies' Progressive Association; Barbers' Association; Marine Association of Steam Engineers; Carpenters and Joiners' Association; General Workers' Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; Paper Hangers' Protective Association; Washington Times Assembly; Stonecutters' Union; Protective Street Railway Assembly; Lathers' Protective Union; Clerks' Association.

Several delegates to their feet, who in turn indorsed the present incumbent for his firm and impartial method in conducting the affairs of the Federation. President James F. McHugh was then placed in nomination and amid much enthusiasm declared elected by acclamation.

The remainder of the officers were filled as follows: First vice president, E. M. Blake, of Excelsior Assembly; second vice president, James Traubner, of the Street Car Drivers' Association; recording secretary, Charles A. Maloney, of the Protective Paper Hangers' Union; financial secretary, Stephen A. Clements, of the Plasterers' Association; and general secretary, George W. Glasgow, of the Painters' Association.

The secretary-treasurer presented his semi-annual report, which showed a very gratifying increase in the condition of the treasury. The report was referred to the auditing committee.

The different reports relating to the Metropolitan Street Railway Company were then debated at length, the reports from all of the organizations being to the effect that the action of the company in refusing to place the car on the street had been indorsed. The delegates were advised to use every honorable effort in pushing the fight for recognition of organized labor to success.

The House Painters' delegates stated that they had not only indorsed the action of the Federation of Labor, but had also placed a penalty on any member who patronized the Metropolitan road while the present difficulty was pending.

Attention was called to unauthorized and erroneous proceedings of the Federation that are being published, and the secretary directed to request the publishers of the newspapers in question not to publish any reports, except those given out by the press committee to accredited reporters.

my, Franco Painters' Association, Bakers' Drivers' Association, Broomstickers' Association, Musicians' Association, Street Car Drivers' Association, Doughnut Progressive Engineers, Musicians' Association, Horseshoers' Union, Excelsior Assembly, Printing Pressmen's Union, Carriage and Waggon Makers' Photo Printers, Pioneer Laundry Workers, Lithographers' Association, Shoe Clerks' Association, Industrial Laundry Workers, Iron and Brass Workers' Association, Metal Workers' Drivers, Journeymen Butchers, Ironclad Assembly, Theatrical Stage Employees' Amalgamated Assembly, and Colored Butchers' Association.

The Labor Day excursion committee met last Wednesday evening in the rooms of the Labor Bureau to perfect arrangements for the excursion to be given on Labor Day for the purpose of a suitable luncheon over the remains of the late E. J. Bea and his wife. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. M. Lawson, of the Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers, the organization of which the deceased brother was a member. Charles H. Warden, of the Painters' Association, was elected secretary and C. H. Warden, treasurer. It was decided to solicit estimates for suitable headstones. Committee on printing was appointed.

Committee on boat stated that all arrangements had been made and enough boats engaged so that there would be no overcrowding in returning from the grounds. From the indications it was thought that the excursion would be a success and there would be a surplus of funds, and it was decided that should the indications prove correct the surplus should be donated to the Workingmen's Library Association.

The next meeting of the committee will be held on Sunday, August 2, at the Labor Bureau.

DISTRICT ASSEMBLY.
As usual, the weekly meeting of District Assembly No. 66, the central organization of the Knights of Labor of this jurisdiction, was well attended on last Thursday night. Master Workman Simon, president, and Delegate Neel, of the Carriage and Waggon Makers' Association, presided, and the proceedings in the absence of Secretary Clements, who was detained at home on account of death in the family.

In his opening address, Master Workman Simon briefly reviewed the events of the week, also read a copy of telegram that he had been instructed to read to the assembly. He then presented a number of Democratic nominees and requesting the convention also to indorse the same.

Credentials of delegates from the Clerks and Broomstickers' Association were received, accepted and delegates organized.

The report from the beer agitation committee was that all arrangements had been made for the excursion to be given on Labor Day for the purpose of a suitable luncheon over the remains of the late E. J. Bea and his wife. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. M. Lawson, of the Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers, the organization of which the deceased brother was a member. Charles H. Warden, of the Painters' Association, was elected secretary and C. H. Warden, treasurer. It was decided to solicit estimates for suitable headstones. Committee on printing was appointed.

Committee on boat stated that all arrangements had been made and enough boats engaged so that there would be no overcrowding in returning from the grounds. From the indications it was thought that the excursion would be a success and there would be a surplus of funds, and it was decided that should the indications prove correct the surplus should be donated to the Workingmen's Library Association.

The next meeting of the committee will be held on Sunday, August 2, at the Labor Bureau.

DISTRICT ASSEMBLY.
As usual, the weekly meeting of District Assembly No. 66, the central organization of the Knights of Labor of this jurisdiction, was well attended on last Thursday night. Master Workman Simon, president, and Delegate Neel, of the Carriage and Waggon Makers' Association, presided, and the proceedings in the absence of Secretary Clements, who was detained at home on account of death in the family.

In his opening address, Master Workman Simon briefly reviewed the events of the week, also read a copy of telegram that he had been instructed to read to the assembly. He then presented a number of Democratic nominees and requesting the convention also to indorse the same.

Credentials of delegates from the Clerks and Broomstickers' Association were received, accepted and delegates organized.

The report from the beer agitation committee was that all arrangements had been made for the excursion to be given on Labor Day for the purpose of a suitable luncheon over the remains of the late E. J. Bea and his wife. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. M. Lawson, of the Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers, the organization of which the deceased brother was a member. Charles H. Warden, of the Painters' Association, was elected secretary and C. H. Warden, treasurer. It was decided to solicit estimates for suitable headstones. Committee on printing was appointed.

Committee on boat stated that all arrangements had been made and enough boats engaged so that there would be no overcrowding in returning from the grounds. From the indications it was thought that the excursion would be a success and there would be a surplus of funds, and it was decided that should the indications prove correct the surplus should be donated to the Workingmen's Library Association.

The next meeting of the committee will be held on Sunday, August 2, at the Labor Bureau.

DISTRICT ASSEMBLY.
As usual, the weekly meeting of District Assembly No. 66, the central organization of the Knights of Labor of this jurisdiction, was well attended on last Thursday night. Master Workman Simon, president, and Delegate Neel, of the Carriage and Waggon Makers' Association, presided, and the proceedings in the absence of Secretary Clements, who was detained at home on account of death in the family.

In his opening address, Master Workman Simon briefly reviewed the events of the week, also read a copy of telegram that he had been instructed to read to the assembly. He then presented a number of Democratic nominees and requesting the convention also to indorse the same.

Credentials of delegates from the Clerks and Broomstickers' Association were received, accepted and delegates organized.

The report from the beer agitation committee was that all arrangements had been made for the excursion to be given on Labor Day for the purpose of a suitable luncheon over the remains of the late E. J. Bea and his wife. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. M. Lawson, of the Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers, the organization of which the deceased brother was a member. Charles H. Warden, of the Painters' Association, was elected secretary and C. H. Warden, treasurer. It was decided to solicit estimates for suitable headstones. Committee on printing was appointed.

Committee on boat stated that all arrangements had been made and enough boats engaged so that there would be no overcrowding in returning from the grounds. From the indications it was thought that the excursion would be a success and there would be a surplus of funds, and it was decided that should the indications prove correct the surplus should be donated to the Workingmen's Library Association.

The next meeting of the committee will be held on Sunday, August 2, at the Labor Bureau.

DISTRICT ASSEMBLY.
As usual, the weekly meeting of District Assembly No. 66, the central organization of the Knights of Labor of this jurisdiction, was well attended on last Thursday night. Master Workman Simon, president, and Delegate Neel, of the Carriage and Waggon Makers' Association, presided, and the proceedings in the absence of Secretary Clements, who was detained at home on account of death in the family.

In his opening address, Master Workman Simon briefly reviewed the events of the week, also read a copy of telegram that he had been instructed to read to the assembly. He then presented a number of Democratic nominees and requesting the convention also to indorse the same.

Credentials of delegates from the Clerks and Broomstickers' Association were received, accepted and delegates organized.

The report from the beer agitation committee was that all arrangements had been made for the excursion to be given on Labor Day for the purpose of a suitable luncheon over the remains of the late E. J. Bea and his wife. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. M. Lawson, of the Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers, the organization of which the deceased brother was a member. Charles H. Warden, of the Painters' Association, was elected secretary and C. H. Warden, treasurer. It was decided to solicit estimates for suitable headstones. Committee on printing was appointed.

Committee on boat stated that all arrangements had been made and enough boats engaged so that there would be no overcrowding in returning from the grounds. From the indications it was thought that the excursion would be a success and there would be a surplus of funds, and it was decided that should the indications prove correct the surplus should be donated to the Workingmen's Library Association.

The next meeting of the committee will be held on Sunday, August 2, at the Labor Bureau.

DISTRICT ASSEMBLY.
As usual, the weekly meeting of District Assembly No. 66, the central organization of the Knights of Labor of this jurisdiction, was well attended on last Thursday night. Master Workman Simon, president, and Delegate Neel, of the Carriage and Waggon Makers' Association, presided, and the proceedings in the absence of Secretary Clements, who was detained at home on account of death in the family.

In his opening address, Master Workman Simon briefly reviewed the events of the week, also read a copy of telegram that he had been instructed to read to the assembly. He then presented a number of Democratic nominees and requesting the convention also to indorse the same.

Credentials of delegates from the Clerks and Broomstickers' Association were received, accepted and delegates organized.

The report from the beer agitation committee was that all arrangements had been made for the excursion to be given on Labor Day for the purpose of a suitable luncheon over the remains of the late E. J. Bea and his wife. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. M. Lawson, of the Eccentric Association of Steam Engineers, the organization of which the deceased brother was a member. Charles H. Warden, of the Painters' Association, was elected secretary and C. H. Warden, treasurer. It was decided to solicit estimates for suitable headstones. Committee on printing was appointed.

facturing establishments has reduced the wages of its employees and has also changed the cent an hour for use of artificial light when compelled to work overtime.

The emancipation of the working people must be achieved by the use of force and not by the use of artificial light when compelled to work overtime.

The Bohemian Taverner will lead the parade on Labor Day at Cleveland and the police will be asked to keep away.

Dillonville (O.) miners won a strike. The management informed the union men that they must join the union and pay up their dues.

Troy (N. Y.) Typographical Union has adopted the percentage plan of collecting dues. The percentage is 1 per cent on the amount earned.

The earned of the St. Paul Copper Union are all employed in the present time and at an increase in wages over those obtained last year.

Strikes of metal polishers at Toronto and Hamilton, Ontario, have been postponed. The union have just been formed at Lockport, N. Y., and Peterboro, Canada.

A large mass meeting of Russian Hebrew workmen was held in New York the other night, under the auspices of the United Hebrew Trades, and was attended by the 86,000 striking workmen in St. Petersburg, Russia. Money will be forwarded.

A strike fund of a round million, to be used and maintained in connection with the consolidation of all the metal workers' unions of the United States, is proposed.

In Massachusetts there is a law to prevent fraud in the sale of goods and merchandise at public or private sale, by itinerant vendors, and to regulate such sales.

The Building Trades Council of Boston wants union labor to get out of the employment upon all buildings erected or repaired at the expense of religious organizations.

The Typographical Union has requested the Boston Central Labor Union to have all typographical printing not bearing the printer's label, forwarded to affiliating bodies, be returned.

They talk of organizing special officers at Cleveland. If an organization is perfected the special officers will agree to remain neutral in the event of a strike or lockout.

The last New York legislature enacted a law establishing free labor bureaus to receive applications for labor and also to receive all applications on the part of those desiring to employ labor.

All the restaurant keepers in Duluth were told to stop serving the new scale presented by the Waiters' Union. The night men are advanced $1 a week and the women 50 cents a week.

At Fall River the Slayers' Union has decided to exempt all members from paying dues during the time the mills are stopped because of curtailment. During the curtailment members will be entitled to stoppage pay.

The electrical workers reported at a recent meeting of the Duluth Trades Assembly that they have it now arranged to take a strike on the 1st of August to learn the trade, instead of about sixty days, as formerly.

All attempts to settle the fight between the New York Local Union No. 3, of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and the Local Union No. 5, of the National Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, A. F. of L., have ended in failure.

Girl pickets are the latest, and they are causing a great deal of trouble. The girls do not pursue aggressive measures. They were smiling and wheedling in their ways, and were successful in this way in getting many non-union people out of the factory.

Forty-two local, three national and three city central charters were issued by the American Federation of Labor in June, this year, against twenty-two in the corresponding month of last year. The National Building Laborers' Union is voting on the question of affiliation with the A. F. of L.

There has been three strikes of mill-laborers at Detroit in the past sixteen years, and every strike has been followed by a new stove works coming into existence. A general strike at present, says a unionist, would be followed by a new co-operative stove works and the establishments now in the field don't want that.

Buffalo horsehoes won their strike. Three dollars a day for firemen; $2.75 a day for day and drive, and $2.50 a day for firemen. Ten hours are to constitute a day's work for the first five days of the week. Nine hours will constitute a day's work on Saturday. Fifty cents an hour will be paid for overtime and there will be no work on Sunday.

Notwithstanding the injunction issued by Judge Ludlow, restricting the street car officials of Milwaukee from beginning action in the United States court to prevent the city from enforcing the 4-cent fare reduction, an order was issued in the United States court that virtually nullified the order of Judge Ludlow, which simply enjoined the street railway officials, but said nothing about the Central Trust Company, New York, trustee for the stockholders.

"I learned a few things" while abroad, said Manager Brady, "of the Actors' and Musicians' Association in London that we would do well to follow after. There is union of feeling, and they associate together to remedy abuses. Recently they forced the United Railways of Great Britain to reduce their fares for the workingmen. There is very little litigation or disagreement between the actor and manager, everything being more or less amicably settled by their protective association."

At the election of St. Paul Typographical Union No. 30, which takes place July 29, the following proposed amendments to article 8 of the constitution will be voted on: To make salary of secretary-treasurer $140 per year; recording secretary, $12; sergeant-at-arms, $8, without credit for extra pay for extra work; and to International Typographical Union, $25 and transportation; if convention is held in St. Paul, no allowance; committee-men to receive 45 cents per hour for lost time.

The 2,500 locked-out miners of Indiana have appealed to Indianapolis unions for aid. They recall the fact that in the winter of 1893-94 that city had many poor people who were unable to obtain work at any price, and could not buy food and fuel for their families.

Chicago building trades represent 23,000 unionists. Chateaugua is to have a workmen's reading room.

Wisconsin liquor dealers will form a state organization. Toledo printers struck for the reinstatement of one man.

"Frisco riggers struck for 75 cents per hour for overtime. Paris doctors keep a record of all persons who do not pay bills.

Detroit has a carpenters' union which probably amalgamated with the union of men to work in the woods.

St. Louis co-operative paper, the Journal, is the official paper of the city. American delegates have left for the International Labor Congress at London.

Superior, Wis., printers have used a newspaper that counterfeits the union label. Cripple Creek miners struck for $5, eight hours and employment of unionists exclusively.

One of Philadelphia's biggest department stores closed at 5 p. m. and at noon Saturdays. Over 200 members were admitted at a recent meeting of the Sawmill Workers' Union of Duluth.

Boston glass-blowers went on strike and sat upon the finished copies until they won their strike.

The public-owned gas plant at Richmond, Va., charges $1 per 1,000 and New York pays a private concern $1.25.

It is rumored among the members of different unions that one of St. Paul's large manu-

Single Tax Column

The Times undertake no responsibility for any views expressed in this column.

ECONOMIC VALUE OF SOCIETY.
Writers have accounted for the fact and necessity of the single tax in various ways, some of which are contradictory. Blackstone considers the wants and fears of individuals as the primary cause of origin to the single tax. Herbert Spencer has about all that Herbert Spencer has told us of the cause of the "social organism."

Other writers content themselves with the statement that the single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. This is equivalent to saying that the character of the single tax is determined by the character of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land. It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.

It is not, however, as simple as that. The single tax is a regulation of the economic value of the land.